Bi-Partisan Group in Congress Fights for Reduction in All Schedules.

WOULD RAISE EXEMPTIONS

Republicans and Democrats
Will Pull Together in Tax Revision.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Reduction of the federal taxes that "the average man" must pay will be demanded by a bi-partisan group in congress when proposals are submitted for the lowering of the rates which affect big income.

Democratic leaders in the house have informed the Republicans they will oppose any reduction of the taxes the rich must pay, unless it is accompanied by a similar decrease to the people who earn less than $5,000 annually. The democrats claim that in this they will be backed by a large number of republicans.

The proposals for tax reductions submitted thus far call only for the elimination of the excess profits levy and the surtax rates. The latter applying only to incomes above $5,000.

Want Rate Reduced
The counter-proposals will provide for a reduction of the normal income tax which at present is 4 per cent.

Some of the Democrats favor reducing the tax that affects the average man from 4 to 2 per cent, while others believe it should be reduced only to 3.

Other suggestions will be that a greater exemption be allowed, such as $1,500 for a single man and $2,500 for a married man.

Representative Rodenburg, Illinois Republican, claims that the average child causes a greater deduction than $200 a year from a man's income.

Exemptions for $400 and $500 will be proposed.

Representative Claude Kitchen, North Carolina, who expects to be Democratic leader, if his health permits, is planning to hold a series of conferences between now and the meeting of the special session of congress to frame the position which the minority will take on fiscal legislation.

He plans to resume his seat on the ways and means committee. Kitchen is a tax authority having been responsible for the present revenue act.

MOTHER AND SON HELD FOR MYSTERY MURDER

By United Press Leased Wire
Warsaw, Ind.—Virgil Decker, 19, was under arrest at Marion, Indiana, Wednesday charged with murder in one of the strangest crime mysteries that ever came to the attention of Indiana police authorities.

His mother, Lydia, was held by Bourbon, Ind., authorities in connection with the crime.

Leroy Lovett, 18-year-old chum of Virgil Decker, was the victim of the murder. Lovett and Decker were "doubles," one often being mistaken for the other.

Lovett's body was found Saturday night after a Pennsylvania train had struck a buggy standing at a crossing. The body was identified by members of the Decker family as that of Virgil. Both Decker and Lovett had disappeared.

Decker carried a $14,000 accident insurance policy with provisions for double payment in case of accidental death. Insurance investigators, working with local authorities, discovered that no horse had been hitched to the buggy standing across the tracks. Authorities claim Decker killed Lovett so that his family might collect the insurance after identifying the body as that of Virgil.

A coroner's investigation was called and it was decided that death had been caused by gunshot wounds inflicted by the train striking the buggy. Lovett's relatives identified the body positively as that of Leroy. The body was clad in clothing belonging to Virgil Decker.

Virgil was taken into custody at the home of his uncle where he went for a visit on Sunday.

Decker appeared at the home of Lovett in Elkhart Friday and asked the youth to accompany him to his home over Sunday. Decker told Lovett that his folks were away. Lovett left and that was the last time he was seen alive.

The actual murder, authorities claim, was committed in a cabin belonging to Fred Decker, brother of the accused youth, on the banks of the Tippecanoe river.

Blood-stained clothing was found in the shack. Lovett's coat was found there.

TAX EXEMPTION IS RAISED IN NEW TAX BILL

Clash on Personal Property Off-

Legislators Advance Bill Permitting County Boards to Help Pay Bills

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—The expected clash of legislators over the personal property offset in income taxes scheduled for Wednesday, failed to materialize when a substitute amendment was offered by the author of the bill, E. C. Hanson sending the measure over to the Friday calendar.

The amendment incorporates the Goodman bill which raises the exemption rates to conform with the federal statutes. Under the proposed bill, single men are exempt on $1,000 income instead of $500 and married persons on $2,000 instead of $1,500, with $200 allowed for each dependent.

The assembly advanced to third reading the Jordan bill which would permit county boards to appropriate money for the payment of personal expenses of members of the legislature representing the county.

This is a move on the part of the members of the assembly to break even with the expenses. The salary of $500 paid them for the term is not sufficient, members say, to pay but a small part of their expenses at Madison.

The Edwards bill redistributing taxes received on grain in warehouses at lake ports was advanced to third reading over objections of representatives from the lake port cities. The bill would distribute the tax money 10 per cent to the state, 20 per cent to the counties and 70 per cent to the cities. The cities get all the tax money at present.

Pass Emergency Bill
The assemblymen voted unanimously for final passage of an emergency appropriation bill totaling more than $644,000 to the state board of control for use in charitable and penal institutions.

More than 500 employees have been without pay since the first of February because of a lack of funds. The bill becomes a law as soon as the governor's signature is attached and the employees will receive their back salaries.

Through a mistake the assembly killed the budget appropriation of $12,000 annually to the printing board along with a $40,000 revolving fund and passed the emergency appropriation of $2,000 for the board. The Dahl caucus last night voted to kill the emergency appropriation but members became confused and killed the budget.

A reconsideration of the action will be necessary.

Fuss over $370
Appropriations totaling $170,350 to the state historical society were voted by the assembly debated for nearly one hour on the advisability of increasing the salary of the custodian of memorial hall from $1,200 to $1,500 annually. The increase was granted.

The Hanson joint resolution amending the constitution to permit sheriffs to succeed themselves in office was passed. This measure will now be submitted to a vote of the people on a referendum at the next election.

The senate killed by a vote of 20 to 10 the joint resolution which would permit bonds up to $45,000,000 to be issued for state highways and adopted the Dahl resolution which would permit a valid verdict in civil cases if five-sixths of the jury agreed.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RAPS STOCK SELLING SCHEME

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—Agents of the Co-operative Society of America were scored in a statement issued Wednesday by Attorney General William J. Morgan for alleged false pretenses made in the disposing of securities in the Wisconsin Koolhaide companies.

The agents were charged with violation of the blue sky laws of the state and afterwards incorporated ten Koolhaide companies with a capital stock of $1,000 each, the statement said.

There was issued against each company 250 debentures each for $50. One agent has been arrested in Milwaukee for representing the securities were backed by a mortgage on all the assets of the Co-operative society of America.

"We do not intend to let Harrison Parker's Chicago outfit break the laws of Wisconsin and get away with it," the Morgan statement said.

WILL ORDER GERMANY TO CUT SILESIAN ARMY

By United Press Leased Wire
Warsaw.—Formal demand that the allies compel Germany to reduce her forces in Upper Silesia was expected Wednesday.

With a plebiscite to be held Sunday to decide whether the rich country goes to Poland or Germany, Polish authorities declared Germany was in a position to violate the armistice by sending troops.

BLUE LAW ADVOCATES MISS A CHANCE HERE

Chicago—A "cool kiss" which lasted five minutes by a detective's watch, marked the parting of Fred J. Miller, 29-year-old saxophone player, and Esther Smithyman, 17-year-old pianist, arrested here Wednesday on request of Pittsburgh police.

The couple was found early Wednesday in a north side rooming house. They eloped from Pittsburgh two weeks ago. Miller leaving a wife and two children, authorities claimed.

Miller and the girl protested their love for each other when detectives broke into the room. When informed that the parting time had come, their request for an opportunity for one more kiss was granted and they made it a long one.

FRENCH ENVOY COMES HERE TO DISCUSS PACT

All Europe Will Keep Eyes on Viviani While He Confers
With Harding.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921

Washington, D. C.—Although official statements insist that Rene Viviani, former premier of France, will simply pay a courtesy visit to the United States, the truth is he has full authority to negotiate with the Harding administration concerning a modified League of Nations.

Ambassador Jusserand has reported that such proposals or suggestions would not be welcome and would be given serious consideration.

From this incident alone may be derived the first news of the way by which President Harding and Secretary Charles Evans Hughes intend to proceed in carrying out the Republican campaign pledge which calls for an agreement with Europe to preserve peace.

The fact that the initiative comes from Europe relieves the United States in a sense of the embarrassment of approaching the European powers with a tale of defects in the present league and suggestions for a substitute. While Mr. Harding has certain ideas concerning an association of nations he has had no way of knowing until he got into office whether those ideas would prove acceptable to Europe.

Other Meetings Will Follow
Few people believe that the Viviani visit will have an immediate effect. On the contrary, the expectation is that a conference of European statesmen will follow the return of M. Viviani and that Europe will adopt a course of action after hearing directly or indirectly from the former French premier just what is to be hoped for from the United States.

While the government of Great Britain is not sending any envoy to discuss the league of nations with Mr. Harding, the deepest interest has been exhibited by the British in what may be accomplished by M. Viviani. The former premier was one of the brilliant figures at the Geneva meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations and is regarded in Europe as one of the ablest of its champions.

One of the ablest of its champions was largely through the efforts of M. Viviani as head of the French delegation at Geneva, and Arthur Balfour, of Great Britain, that a decision was reached to postpone changes in the covenant until the new administration had come into power at Washington.

M. Viviani, like other Frenchmen, cannot understand why Mr. Harding believes the present League of Nations is a super-state or why it "surrounds" sovereignty because the French themselves insist that they would never surrender their sovereignty to anybody either.

The discussion between M. Viviani and the American government will largely be an explanation of the actual operation of the league and an attempt to discover just what changes the United States would like to have made to clarify the covenant.

300 BOOSTERS LEARN HOW TO IMPROVE CITY

Chamber of Commerce Annual Meet Sets New Record
for Enthusiasm.

MAKE CITY MORE BEAUTIFUL

A. D. Albert, Noted City Planner, Gives Stirring Address on City's Needs.

One year of activity of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce went down in history Tuesday evening with a banquet that packed 300 to the doors. It was one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings ever held by the organization. The eager spirit which prompted the members to gather in the interest of a better and bigger Appleton was heightened by the address of Allen D. Albert, Paris, Ill., who spoke on "The Forces That Make Cities," and especially the forces needed to make Appleton 100 per cent in its attractiveness.

Declaring that the growth of cities must be symmetrical, the speaker showed the dangers of over-industrialization in a community. He commended Appleton for its conservative policy toward gaining new industries, saying it was better to depend on the younger men to develop the firms already here, and to give backing with local capital.

Need More Parks
Appleton, like most other cities, has been the victim of accident, he said, but was fortunate in having so many features that make it a beautiful place. Its citizens should dedicate the city for the child life of Appleton. He said one of the most needed things was half submerged in the center and that the city ought to find out where a bridge could be placed to be of the greatest service and yet be a structure of beauty. He also took the citizens to task for neglecting the beautiful park areas available, saying the city had parks enough for a city of 4,500 people.

Successful cities were those built for the workman, said Mr. Albert, and the education of their children should be the first consideration. He told of the need of recreation for young and old and urged that the city should be speeded in its progress by strengthening the churches and the religious life of Appleton.

300 at Banquet
More than 300 persons attended the banquet. Guests were present from commercial organizations in Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha and Seymour. Mayor J. A. Hawes, the aldermen and several city department heads attended in a body, seated at a special table. A number of women were present.

J. P. Frank was chairman of the gathering, acting in the absence of Gustav Keller. Community singing was led by Chester Roberts. Miss Lily Sindahl of Neenah rendered a solo and was called back twice for encores.

Lothar G. Graef, vice president of the chamber, read the report of the election naming Harry Ingold, R. W. Getachow, Robert O. Schmidt, E. A. Schmalz and Seymour Guineer as directors for three years. Each was asked to stand and was applauded. Newsboys broke into the hall crying "extra" and distributed copies of the community betterment report.

Some of the features of the reports were called to attention by Mr. Graef, including the financial report.

Mr. Frank spoke feelingly concerning the directors who were retiring from office, explaining that these men had given faithful and commendable service, but they asked that "new blood" be placed on the directorate in preference to reelection of the old ones. He said the new men had to fill a big job when they took the places of G. E. Buchanan, John R. Edgerton, L. J. Marshall, William R. Fountain and John L. Hettner. Several of these men held the best record for attendance at director meetings.

Growth of cities is marked with cold calculation, Mr. Albert said, and it became a question of making this

1,000 RENTERS OUT
TO "GET" LANDLORDS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—"Gouge the gougers" was the battle cry of nearly 1,000 representatives of 100,000 Chicago tenants who went to Springfield Wednesday to demand action by the Illinois legislature in curbing rent increases. At the special train pulled out several thousand "well-to-do" who had gathered to see the start of the pilgrimage jammed the station.

The delegates to the state capital passed through the lanes of cheering fellow tenants to reach the train. The "on to Springfield" movement of tenants was organized for the purpose of presenting the rent question to a joint committee of the legislature, considering bills which would control rent increases.

The bill introduced by Senator Kinsinger is an "anti-rent act" which would allow cities to appoint committees to control the rent situation.

A mass meeting attended by more than 5,000 persons was held Tuesday night to give the tenants' spirit a boost.

Waukesha, Wis.—Investigation into the mysterious death of the 10-year-old boy, found in a stone quarry here a week ago, continued Wednesday following burial of the body Tuesday.

Through donations of interested Waukesha people, the body was saved from the potters' field. The Waukesha county board has offered a reward of $100 for information leading to the identity of the boy.

DISCUSS STRIKE
OF ALL EMPLOYES
IN PACKING PLANTS

Wage Controversy "Back of the Yards" is Rapidly Near- ing Climax

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The controversy between packers and their employers rapidly drew toward a climax Wednesday. Developments were:

1—Taking of a strike vote among butchers and meat cutters.

2—Meeting of representatives of all union employees of packing companies to consider a walkout of all trades employed by packers in sympathy with the butchers and meat cutters if they strike.

3—Closing down of independent packing companies in stockyards district in view of the "unsettled conditions."

Arrangements continued for mediation conference in Washington with government officials.

Taking of the strike vote proceeded without any disturbance.

Booths were erected at the main gates leading to the packing plants in the yards district and the men cast their ballots as they went to work. The early vote, union leaders said, overwhelmingly favored a strike. About 2,000 men were thrown out of work by the closing down of the small independent companies. The layoff, officials said, was due to the "strike talk," unsettled market conditions and especially declining prices for meat products and lack of demand.

Vote Favors Strike
St. Paul, Minn.—"Big Five" packers' employees at South St. Paul are voting about 12 to 1 in favor of a strike in view of arbitrary wage reductions announced by packers, according to Joseph P. McCoy, secretary-treasurer of a local union. He said the local strike vote will be completed Thursday.

Four independent packers here have decided not to reduce wages and their employees will remain on the job, it was said.

BRITAIN REOPENS
TRADE WITH RUSS

Signing of Agreement May Be
First Step Toward Recognition of Soviets.

By United Press Leased Wire
London—That British recognition will be given the soviet government is implied by the signing of a trade agreement between Great Britain and Russia, it was authoritatively stated here Wednesday.

However, no official announcement was made to indicate the government gave the signing of the trade pact such an interpretation.

The document marked the first assumption of commercial arrangements with an allied power. Russia made important concessions, the most notable being an agreement to cease bolshevik propaganda outside of Russia.

Negotiations over the trade agreement have extended over the greater part of a year. Great Britain demanding release of all prisoners held by Russia as well as renunciation of soviet propaganda.

One Russian representative, M. Kamenieff, was ordered out of Great Britain because of his attitude and because he was alleged to have attempted to subsidize a London newspaper.

Complicated arrangements had to be made for the handling of goods because of the lack of individual capital in Russia. Leaders believed the treaty will lead later to full political recognition.

GUY GOFF NAMED
DOUGHERTY AIDE

Washington, D. C.—Attorney General Daugherty Wednesday recommended to President Harding the appointment of Guy D. Goff of Wisconsin, as assistant attorney general.

Goff was made a member of the shipping board by former President Wilson but never confirmed.

Former U. S. Attorney Milwaukee—Guy D. Goff recommended by Attorney General Daugherty to President Harding as assistant attorney general, is a former United States district attorney for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

Washington is his home.

During the war Goff was a colonial judge of the federal court in Washington.

Attorneys in Clara Smith Murder Trial Make Final Arguments Today.

WON'T SEEK DEATH PENALTY

Believe Defendant's Story
Paves Way for Her Acquittal by Jurors.

By United Press Leased Wire
Courtroom, Ardmore, Okla.—Lawyers written by Jake Hamon to his protege, Clara Smith Hamon, were ruled inadmissible as evidence in Clara's trial for murder here Wednesday.

Judge Tom Champion said the letters introduced by the defense were not competent as evidence. The ruling was a blow to the defense's case.

The state closed its case after hearing testimony by a few witnesses during the morning. Court was recessed until 3 p. m. to give the attorneys an opportunity to prepare their closing arguments to the jury and to allow the judge to prepare his instructions.

Prosecutor Freeling said he would not ask the death penalty in his closing statement. He feels he has a better chance of getting a conviction if he asks a lighter penalty.

The case will reach the jury late tonight or Thursday.

Attorneys for Clara declared she had saved herself by the story she told the jury—that she was her own best witness.

Efforts by the state to break down her testimony in rebuttal Wednesday failed.

Denies Interview
Clara looked much relieved when she entered the courtroom Wednesday after her trying ordeal on the witness stand Tuesday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Jennie Sharples, an evangelist, who prayed with her
during the morning before court opened.

Sam Blair, a newspaper reporter was the first witness to testify. He told of an interview with Clara in Mexico.

Clara, on the stand Tuesday, denied parts of the interview with her obtained by Blair.

Freeling quoted excerpts from Blair's interview and asked if Clara made the statements.

"In substance" and "in general,"
was Blair's reply.

Blair explained he had the interview three months ago and the conversation was a bit hazy. Freeling tried to introduce the interview as evidence but it was thrown out by the court.

No Death Statement
Miss Rosa Cannon, Hamon's nurse, who testified for the defense was recalled to the stand by the prosecution.
Miss Cannon, when she testified before, said she was with Hamon at the hospital 12 hours a day while he was mentally unbalanced and said she Hamon make no dying declaration that Clara shot him deliberately.

Miss Cannon denied making this statement to Errett Dunlap, a friend of Hamon's.

"I was surprised to see Clara come to the hospital; she made me nervous;
she looked like she had been out
the night before."

Dunlap, who followed Miss Cannon, testified Miss Cannon had made the statement.

Lives Threatened
Death threats have been received by all principals in the trial, it was revealed Wednesday.

Just as the case was about concluded, anonymous letters poured in to Jake L. Hamon, Jr., and Mrs. Jake Hamon that their lives would be taken in case Clara was convicted.

Several letters, according to Sheriff Buck Garrett, have been received by him and the defendant, Clara, threatening death in case the jury acquits her.

"It's the work of cranks," the sheriff said, "and happens often around here but nothing ever comes of such threats."

PLAN DEVELOPMENT
OF U. S. WATERPOWER

Washington.—Development of waterpower projects to such an extent that they may revolutionize American industry within the next 20 years making water greater than coal as a source of power, is promised in the number of applications now before the federal power commission.

Reports obtained Wednesday following the first meeting of the new power commission shows that 150 applications for waterpower sites are to be acted upon by the commission, which is composed of the secretaries of war, agriculture and interior. In addition to Secretary Weeks' estimate that the projects under consideration will involve an initial expenditure of two billion dollars, it was estimated Wednesday that further investments in power transmission and distribution and other promotion work incident to the original outlay, will bring the total expenditure to eleven billion dollars.

Applications which are practically certain of being granted insure a waterpower development in the next ten years of thirteen billion horsepower.

GUARD COMPANY WILL RENT BARN FOR ITS PROPERTY

Twelve Mules and Four Horses to be Assigned to Local Military Unit.

Appleton military company, to be known upon the reorganization of the Wisconsin National Guard as Co. D, 10th Infantry, 1st Division, 1st Brigade, has practically decided to lease a barn for its property. Twelve mules and four horses are to be assigned to it as soon as the machine gun company, which will be within the next few weeks. The animals will be in charge of a blacksmith and stable sergeant. Light machine guns will be assigned to the company which will be kept in the barn. The ammunition and gun parts will be stored in the stable. Light carts will be used for the guns and two for the company's property. The officers of the company expect to have the entire equipment in time to make use of it in preparing for the annual encampment at Camp Douglas the coming summer. Twenty-seven men and twenty-two officers of the old Second regiment of which Co. G was a member. The fourth company of each of the three battalions of the regiment is designated as a machine gun company. Co. D of Appleton has been assigned to the first battalion. Co. H of Menasha to the second; and Co. M of Fond du Lac to the third. The Second regiment band of Appleton is to be the regimental band of the new infantry and will also act as supply company for the headquarters company.

Capt. F. W. Hoffman returned recently from Camp Benning, Ga., where he has completed four months of intensive training. So much time will be required by the commissioned officers under the new arrangement that Fred Morris, first lieutenant, has tendered his resignation as to do the office justice would interfere with his duties as secretary of the Appleton Water commission. The vacancy will be filled before the annual encampment. Ives Miller is second lieutenant and in line of promotion. At present the company is composed of 45 men, ten of whom saw service in the world war.

The annual encampment this year will be one of the most important in the history of the state. It will be held at Camp Douglas the last two weeks in July and the first two weeks in August. Each company will be in camp two weeks instead of one week as heretofore and about 8,000 men will be in camp during the entire month. A detachment of the regular army will also be stationed there during the encampment.

Not Particular
Birds are not as particular about living with races of another color as people are, observes an Appleton man. In front of his home in the First ward is a tree which has attracted his attention because a family of robins and a family of blackbirds both have nests there. They seem to get along quite peacefully despite the contrast of color.

Granted Divorce
Alice Kruse was granted a divorce from her husband, Raymond Kruse, in municipal court Tuesday on the ground of desertion. The husband disappeared more than a year ago and has not been heard from since. Howard, 4, is the only child.

Bid For Road Jobs
Local road contractors have bid on several pieces of road work both in Wisconsin and neighboring states, but so far no contracts have been awarded. Man Who Was "Dead" and Now Lives Describes His Sensations.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Chicago.—What are the adventures of the soul?
Charles McMahon, "the man who died and came back," claims to know. Doctors say McMahon died on the operating table.
His breath stopped.
His pulse halted.
His flesh grew white.
His body took on the chill of death.
By all the tests of science McMahon was dead.
But physicians set to work to bring back respiration, consciousness, life.
Meanwhile McMahon's wife paced an outer room, sobbing with grief. McMahon's brothers comforted her. They had all seen McMahon's face and to them he was dead.
Preparations were made in another part of the hospital to receive the body.
Then — suddenly — there was the flutter of an eyelid, the tremor of the chest, the faintest flush of life in the gray cheeks.
McMahon lived.
Later, on his cot, he said:
"If that was death—then death is a dreamless sleep. I remember the first dream of the anesthetic, and I remember the flood of yellow light and the rush and surge of color.
"Then all was quiet. Voices grew softer—still softer—then faded away.
"My limbs grew dead and finally—I was just gone!
"That's all I know.
"I believe I was dead!
"There is just the faintest recollection of something. I don't know what it is. I've tried hard to remember, but it's no use. That must have been death."
Dr. Thomas H. Farsche, who performed the operation, and who is credited with bringing McMahon back to life, refuses to discuss it.
"It isn't ethical," he says.
But McMahon says, "Ethics or no ethics, I'm certainly much obliged to the doctor."

"Sportsy" Shoes for Spring Outdoors

Oh! the joy of a stroll under spring's balmy skies. But joyful only if one's shoes approve of walking.

The outdoor woman must have shoes that are smart, shapely and snug-fitting to the eye, gracefully easy and comfortable to the foot, and whose service is measured by months.

Here we portray the DeSota—a smart, "sportsy" Blucher Oxford. It is really dressy and yet has all the desirable features of a walking shoe.

It moves with the foot, not against it—expressly made to fit the foot in action. It has the famous flexible "bends with your foot" sole as additional assurance that you will enjoy exquisite comfort from the very first.

Come and see all the new season's models in the Red Cross Shoe. There is a style in our showing that will appeal to your particular fancy.

Chamber Of Commerce Is Big Factor In City In First Year Of Life

Report of Year's Activities Reviews Accomplishments Since Organization and Announces Names of Five New Directors.

Five new faces will be found among the directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at the next meeting as a result of the election Monday. They are Harry Ingold, R. W. Getchow, Robert O. Schmidt, E. A. Schmalz, and Seymour Gmelner, receiving the highest number of votes out of a slate of 10 nominated last month. Results were announced at the annual banquet Tuesday evening in Elk hall.

These men succeed G. E. Buchanan, John R. Diderich, L. J. Marshall, William Fountain and John L. Hettinger, who served one year from the time the chamber was organized. All have been keenly active in administration of the chamber's affairs and no doubt would have been reelected, but the nominating committee chose an entire new slate because they believed other members ought to be willing to work for the chamber instead of having the responsibility continue to fall on the same shoulders. Each of the new men serves three years.

Ballots were mailed out a week ago together with an envelope addressed to the election judges, Homer H. Benton, H. L. Dawson and Karl A. Schuetter.

Murphy Declines

S. W. Murphy received the highest number of votes but in a letter addressed to the judges declined to serve because of the press of business matters. The judge therefore selected the names of the five highest excluding Mr. Murphy. Three names were written in on the ballots, receiving one vote each. A total of 457 ballots was cast and the result was:

S. W. Murphy	333
Harry Ingold	325
R. W. Getchow	324
Robert O. Schmidt	242
E. A. Schmalz	226
Seymour Gmelner	139
Conrad Verbrick	153
Chris Mullen	150
A. Wilton	109
Charles Hagen	1
Fred Peterson	1
J. E. Bond	1

Most of the activities of the chamber of commerce which could be recorded in tangible form were published in the March issue of Community Betterment, so each member could peruse it at leisure and learn what the organization accomplished during the year just closing. General information, activities grouped by committees and the report of Albert C. Rule, auditor, are contained in its pages.

A healthy condition obtains in the treasury, according to Mr. Rule's report, showing a balance of $2,200.88. The total receipts for the year were $17,827.66. Of this amount $17,385.49 is for 1920 dues, and there is still $579.18 uncollected. Deaths and removals from the city caused cancellation of $187.50 in dues.

A total of $11,530.73 was paid out by the chamber, the report shows. This includes $1,649.34 for installing the merchant information bureau for the retail section of the chamber. Some of the more important items of expense were:

For temporary organization, $730.80; salaries, $3,990.00; rent, $1,000.00; furniture and fixtures, $1,054.02; office supplies, $599.21; bulletins, $465.61; forum and speakers $261.60; attending conventions and traveling expense, $150.53; merchant information bureau and equipment, $1,649.34; publicity and convention $314.92; industrial survey, $53.00; community affairs, including band, $409.50; rural affairs, $188.26; miscellaneous, $281.68.

Investigated Industries

One of the chamber's important functions in the last year has been the investigation of a number of industrial propositions that wished to locate here. This work was done by the industrial committee, headed by A. K. Ellis, chairman. An iron working plant desired to come here and was considered, but its home town provided the capital so it could remain.

A shoe factory from Racine wanted to come here, but wanted financial assistance. Investigation showed it to be a stock selling proposition, so the matter was dropped. The Organello corporation, Indianapolis, Ind., would come if $50,000 of its capital stock was bought, but was turned down. A rubber corporation from Columbus, Ohio, a farmer tractor corporation and a Milwaukee storage battery company was considered, but all were found to be stock selling propositions.

The committee tried to interest valley cities in a through interurban freight service but none responded so the matter was dropped. Other cities have revived the issue.

City is Adversely Affected
Appleton was advertised in several ways by the publicity and convention committee. Ten thousand booklets about the city were prepared for distribution. Slogans were obtained, bulletins issued to members, literature given visitors, tourists and convention delegates; hundreds of letters answered about the city; the farmer meeting and corn show promoted; the convention of the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers invited here and assistance given; delegates sent to several important conferences and conventions; cooperation given in city week publicity.

Appleton's needs were determined by the community welfare committee through a questionnaire submitted to members. A purer milk supply is under consideration. Cooperation has been extended the Red Cross, school boards, Appleton Building and Loan association and other organizations. A school survey has been promoted and city planning has been given thorough investigation and study. A sum of $500 has been appropriated to the Ninth Regiment band. Efforts are being made to secure additional park sites here.

Merchants have been assisted to keep trade in Appleton and draw from additional territory. They have been saved about $10,000 through activities of the retail trades committee in its investigation of 25 propositions in which some worthless scheme was obvious. The credit information bureau has been installed and one of the best sales courses in the country staged in the vocational school. Income tax lectures, conferences and counsel have been provided.

Boost Rural Fairs

Cooperation was extended by the rural affairs committee to Hortonville and Seymour in boosting fairs. Lake road has been placed on the county trunk highway system to insure proper care, a corn show has been conducted and assistance given in several public sales. Active work has also been done on a proposed community building.

Active participation in national and state affairs has been made possible through the chamber. The Appleton body joined the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. A state chamber of commerce, reforestation, lakes to ocean waterway and other state projects have been promoted.

Twenty-six meetings have been held by the board of directors since organization. This body met faithfully every two weeks, even in the summer months in an endeavor to get the chamber's work under way. The members held eight forum meetings on timely topics with good speakers. Among the projects listed in the printed review as Appleton needs are:

SHARP OBJECTS IN FEED KILL MANY COWS HERE

Nails, pieces of wire and staples which chanced to get into their food caused the death of several valuable cows in Outagamie county this winter. "The swallowing of a sharp piece of metal does not always kill an animal," said Dr. William Madison, local veterinarian, Tuesday. "It is only when it penetrates the stomach that it causes trouble and then little, if anything can be done." Dr. Madison said while there is the usual amount of sickness among live stock no disease has so far appeared this spring in the form of an epidemic.

Notice issued to Martha VandenBroek and Norman Foxgruber and H. J. Mulholland appointed appraisers. Petition for settlement of final account and assignment of estate also filed and hearing set for April 5.

ROTARIANS HEAR ALBERT ADDRESS TUESDAY NOON

A most fascinating address was delivered by Allen D. Albert, Paris, Ill., at the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. He was president of the International Association of Rotary clubs in 1916 and is regarded as one of the strongest Rotarians in the country. He confined his remarks largely to matters of rotary interest. His remarks were impressed with his effectiveness as a speaker.

Attention Mothers and Fathers!

Robust and sturdy boys and girls—the result of this wonderful energy-producing food

HERE is a statement by an authority on nutrition that gives the reason why there are millions of Karo users all over the country. This expert says "Karo is one of the greatest of all energy-producing foods. It brings strength and energy to the boys and girls that need lots of strength and energy for studying and playing and growing."

An important question! What is Dextrose?

You cannot live long without Dextrose. Most foods you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables and all forms of sugar—have to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use them as energy foods. Karo contains a large percentage of dextrose—a completely digested sugar. So Karo may almost be said to be a predigested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical and food authorities. Send for the free booklet mentioned below, and read all the facts. To have lots of energy, strength and endurance use plenty of Karo—on cakes or waffles, or as a delicious spread on bread. Many prefer it for stewing dried fruit and prunes. And it makes perfectly wonderful taffy, fudge and caramels.

FREE A booklet every parent should read. Tells all about the wonderful food value of Karo; explains the meaning of Dextrose and why children thrive on it. Sent free with the beautifully illustrated Corn Products Cook Book of sixty-four pages. Write - Corn Products Refining Company, Argo, Illinois.

This is a typical page from the manual with which we are supplied by the Laundrymen's National Association—it sets forth specific formulas for the washing of every class of goods. Here, also, is the formula of the Rinse.

The Formula of the Rinse— 3.2 Gallons of Water to Every Pound of Clothes

"Rinsin'? Lan' sakes, nothin' to that I jess jounces 'em up and down a couple of times, that's my method"—a colored "Mammy" told us recently.

Nevertheless, we know nowadays that real rinsing requires something more than "a dab up and down," for only through proper rinsing can sunshiny sweetness in clothes be secured.

But what is proper rinsing, and how much is enough? Some people will recommend one thing; some another—but this is what we have found.

In washing, soap dissolves in the water—the cleansing facts which it contains are carried into the innermost pores of the fabric. After the soap has done its work, all of it must be rinsed out. If any is left it will do what any fat will do—it will "sour" and the clothes will sour.

Wringing, and a single plunge in the water are insufficient for complete rinsing—only thorough, methodical sousing in pure, soft water will suffice.

That's why your table linen, bed linen, and other white pieces are rinsed at least five times in our laundry—each time in fresh, clear water that is changed before every rinse. For every pound of flat work and apparel of this class, an average of 3.2 gallons is used. This means that for the rinsing of what in the home would make less than a tubful of clothes, a barrel of water is used by us.

For colored shirts our formula calls for four rinses; for colored hose, three—for everything you send in your family bundle there is a definite, purifying rinsing schedule. Exactly the amount of pure, soft water is used that will impart to all your things that sweetness in every pore which is so refreshing to the body, and so necessary for real comfort and robust health.

It is this exactness—this fineness in every process—which makes our modern laundering saving of fabrics, and economical for housewives. You can secure this service for your washing. Telephone. Have us call for your family bundle.

Confessions Of A Bride

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

My Own Marriage Made For Love, Was Becoming Such a Farce!

In the Pennsylvania station, I saw Ted Moore fold Deb in a perfect embrace. Tears filled my eyes as Deb yielded, quite unashamed in that public place. I envied them. I needed to be held just so in my husband's arms.

Now that they were reunited, Ted and Deb did not seem to have any explanations to make. Once more I assured myself that Deb was desperately in love with Ted, but unconscious of her emotion.

"Time—and a very little time—will set all right between them," said myself to myself. "If only time would do the same for Bob and me!"

At our hotel, I managed to get a few quiet moments with Ted. I described the storm, and detailed the trials of our trip to the parsonage. And I ended dismally:

"So Mrs. Burns lied! It's the most awful word in the language! What I never can understand, Ted, is the commonplace of honest people who let liars impose upon them."

Deb's wedding in New York was vastly different from the picturesque ceremony she had planned for the Valley Parsonage. I provided the lilacs-of-the-valley and shed some very sincere tears, and wished that I could be married over again, so that my husband and I could make a new trial of marital happiness. My wish was cut short by the duties of the hour. Deb and Ted wired to her father, and his relatives and to their best friends.

I long-distanced to Bob's office. He was not there. Then I phoned to our own home—then to his father's house. I gave the operator orders to say that New York was calling—nothing more. Bob was not to be picked up by the home exchange.

"No use to get upset," reminded myself. "No use to pretend either, that your awful depression is due to parting with Deb."

Deb and Ted took me to my train. By mutual preference, we avoided a display of the sentiment which was stirring us all.

"You'll make a trip to South America—you and Bob—in a month or two. At least some time this winter. Promise us!"

"And you'll write to me, Debbie dear. Everything—from the time you go aboard ship. I shall miss you so. Deb darling, Ted, don't be selfish. Make her keep a diary for me. I'm going to be so lonesome without her—"

So we parted. And before my train pulled out, the newly-weds had forgotten me! At least they had turned toward each other, and so they missed my final gesture of farewell.

I sank back in my seat with a horrible, unbearable sense of my isolation and loneliness. The quiet content, the undemonstrative, temperate happiness of those two sensible young persons made me envious.

My own marriage had been made for love—and what a farce it was becoming! When Deb and Ted had been married as long as Bob and I, they couldn't possibly be more unhappy.

I arrived at my station early Thanksgiving morning. I had wired Bob to meet me. He was not there. He had not even sent a car for me. I hailed a taxi and slumped into my most rebellious mood. I ordered the chauffeur to take me to my home. Bob would not be there, and I did not want to see him immediately. Bob would be at his mother's house.

For it chanced that the graduate of our state university who was my household assistant had gone home to attend a wedding and for a Thanksgiving vacation. For that reason, Bob would stop with his parents.

I found my little home warm and cozy; it was heated from the central plant in the Lorimer grounds. I discovered my wire to Bob, unopened, on the hall table.

Why had it not been opened?

I was too weary to cry, and too angry to call up the big house and ask again for my husband. I felt oppressed with loneliness, as one does who comes home from the funeral of a loved one.

BACKACHE OF WOMEN

This back is often called the main-spring of a woman's life. What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition? She cannot walk, she cannot stand, her housework is a burden, on the long hours behind the counter, in the office or factory are crushing. She is miserable. The cause is many times some derangement of her system, and backache is a common symptom. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy for backache, as for more than forty years it has been relieving women of America from the ailments which often cause it.

SENATE REPEALS SPECIAL CHARTER

Forty-three Badger Cities, including Appleton, Under General Charter.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—After amending the terms of office should remain as at present until changed by ordinance, the senate on Tuesday passed the Repeal of the Special Charter, which repeals all special city charters and places all under the general charter, with the single exception of Milwaukee. The bill was passed by a vote of 18 to 10. The bill was introduced by Senator William L. Nelson, of Milwaukee, who stated that personally he favored the measure, fought hard to defeat it and retain for Milwaukee the special charter granted by the legislature in 1852. By the provisions of the bill the special charters of 43 cities, some of them 70 years or more, are repealed and all placed under the provisions of the general charter.

The cities affected are:
Second class: Kenosha, Racine and Superior.
Third class: Appleton, Ashland, Beloit, Eau Claire, Green Bay, Janesville, La Crosse, Madison, Oshkosh, Sheboygan.
Fourth class: Algonquin, Alma, Argos, Baraboo, Barron, Brookfield, Buffalo, Cedarburg, Chilton, Colby, Dodgeville, Fountain City, Hayward, Hudson, Kaukauna, Menasha, Menomonee, Mondovi, Neenah, Neillsville, Oconomowoc, Oconto, Onalaska, Plymouth, Port Washington, Reedsville, Shawano, Two Lake, River Falls, Shullsburg, Stoughton.

The bill now goes to the assembly where it will doubtless be referred to the committee on municipalities and another hearing scheduled.

"DEAD" GIRL SAVED BY AN OPERATION

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Ashland, Wis.—Pretty little Elizabeth Olson of Bessemer, Mich., was snatched from the realm of death at the Ashland General hospital several minutes after she had apparently succumbed to the effects of a plum stone which had become lodged in her windpipe.

By the use of artificial breathing apparatus and a surgeon's knife the girl's life was restored.

Elizabeth was rushed to the hospital after she had swallowed the stone. While doctors were bending over her, endeavoring to locate the pit, heart action stopped.

Dr. Dodd of this city immediately slashed open her windpipe at the neck and removed the stone with a forceps.

Next artificial breathing was administered. The girl failed to respond at first. Finally she resumed breathing and on Tuesday she was sufficiently "alive" to sit up.

BEAN LODGED IN LUNG FATAL TO YOUNG GIRL

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Eau Claire.—The sudden death here of Charlotte, 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller, at her home was a mystery to parents and attending physician until an autopsy was performed, which revealed a bean lodged in one of her lungs, shutting off respiration in the one organ.

For a day and night previous to her death, the little girl had cried as if in pain when sitting up but when in a reclining position seemed to be all right. A local physician who was called immediately after the girl first began to complain and whisper could find nothing apparently ailing her, but left with instructions to the parents to call him in case of a change in her condition.

The girl slept well all night, in the morning wanted something to eat and being in apparently good health again was given a soft boiled egg. Three minutes afterwards she suffered a choking spell and died before the arrival of the doctor.

EAU CLAIRE MILK WAR STARTED BY PRICE CUT

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Eau Claire, Wis.—A bitter war between the Geckle Dairy company and some thirty smaller milk dealers was precipitated here on Tuesday when the dairy company announced that, beginning on March 16, it would sell milk at 7 cents per quart retail, a 4 cent drop from the prevailing price. This is said to be the lowest rate in any Wisconsin city.

Officers of the dairy company announced that they have persuaded the Eau Claire Milk Producers' association which sells them all its milk, to make a price that would enable them to sell milk at this price for the benefit of the buying public.

The other milk dealers charge that the price cut is an attempt by the dairy company and the milk producers combined to freeze out small dealers by underselling them, in revenge against some of the dealers who have been selling milk at 9 and 10 cents while the dairy company has been charging 11 cents.

BLAINE OBJECTS TO WAR HISTORY PLANS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The finance committee bill appropriating $10,000 annually to the War History Commission, which was sent to the governor last week for final approval, was rejected by the committee Tuesday afternoon at the suggestion of Gov. Blaine who did not want to veto the measure.

It is said the governor's objection to the bill was that it permitted the expenditure of the appropriation for the publication of another volume pertaining to the Thirty-second division, containing the maps, orders, etc., while it was understood to be the original intention of the legislature two years ago when the initial appropriation was made, to publish the history of the Thirty-second, which has been issued, and then a complete history of Wisconsin's activities in the war, including those of the nearly 100,000 men who were in service from this state but who were not members of the Thirty-second.

Just what the finance committee will do with the bill, whether it will ask reconsideration in the assembly and senate of the vote by which the bill was to permit an amendment, has not been determined.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed your body. To do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color.

759 RURAL PUPILS POSSESS DEFECTS

Tonsils and Teeth Prove Main Ailments, Report of County Nurse Shows.

More than half the children given physical examinations in rural schools during December, January and February were found to have defects, according to the report of Miss Bertha Schultz, county nurse. Defective tonsils totalled the highest, with bad teeth second. Nearly one fourth of the children were under weight.

Miss Schultz inspected 1,464 pupils in her 43 visits to country schools. She found 759 who had some physical defect and there were 12 excluded from school because of their condition. Parents were notified in 737 cases about their children. Miss Schultz gave 44 health talks, illustrated with colored health posters.

Defect of tonsils number 410; teeth, 398; vision, 103; eyes, 38; hearing, 28; breathing, 19; enlarged glands of neck, 263; defective speech, 12; skin diseases, 18; children more than under 7 per cent underweight, 398.

The nurse also visited 82 homes in the last three months. She investigated five mental cases, made 21 special visits and recommended institutional care to one person.

Miss Schultz was formerly county public health nurse for the Red Cross, but was engaged recently by the county board. Her office remains in the Red Cross center on Appleton st.

CULBERTSON LOOKS FOR BIGGER CROPS

H. M. Culbertson of Medina, who a year ago predicted that farmers would cultivate only as much land as they could care for themselves by reason of excessive wages, said Tuesday that they would extend their operations very extensively this season and would depend on help to a great extent. Men are hiring out for the summer this year at from $40 to $50 per month which is only about half what they received last year.

Mr. Culbertson is of the opinion that the low price of potatoes and cabbage will have very little effect on the acreage planted this year for the only way farmers can play safe on these crops is to plant the same amount each year. He does not believe any considerable amount of wheat will be sown as the crop is too uncertain and the price too low.

While cows bring only about half what they did during the war, and while the price of milk is low, Mr. Culbertson is of the opinion that the dairy business will continue to be one of the principal industries of the county and that additional creameries and cheese factories will be operated.

Can't Get Real Shamrocks For Appleton Irish

There'll be no wearin' o' the shamrock in Appleton on St. Patrick day this year. At least there won't be any real shamrocks here.

Appleton florists said they made repeated efforts to obtain the coveted three leaf shrub but efforts were unavailing. Shamrocks are grown near some of the larger cities, but it is said their culture is attended by considerable difficulty and the demand is so large they seldom get to the smaller cities.

Artificial shamrocks, however, are here in great numbers and there will be many an Irishman seen if he has never stepped foot on the Old Sod, sporting three green leaves from his coat lapel on Thursday.

WANT BRICKYARD-RO. PAVED THIS YEAR

It is probable pressure will be brought on the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening to award contracts for paving Second-st. and that portion of the Brickyrd-rd. in the city limits in order to make it possible for farmers living southwest of Appleton to come to the city.

Brickyrd-rd. is practically impassable because of the deep mud. It is contended that paving cost will not be materially reduced for a number of years. If it ever becomes any lower, and if the work is delayed the city will suffer because trade is kept away. The cost to the property owner in any event is not to exceed $3 a square yard and it is hardly probable the cost of paving will ever drop below that figure. The cost in excess of $3 per square yard is borne by the city.

Ottawaga county has shown a willingness to pave that portion of the Brickyrd-rd. which is thinly populated but is averse to doing the work until Second-st. is permanently improved.

NO CONFUSION AT C. OF C. DINNER

Acquaintance Committee Gives Splendid Service to Visitors.

Confusion was avoided and good fellowship strengthened by the work of the acquaintance committee at the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce in Elk hall Tuesday evening. The members of the committee were on the scene early to receive the visitors from nearby cities, and succeeded in properly seating all groups without difficulty. Those on the committee were John Stevens, Jr., chairman; Karl Mory, A. A. Gritzschner, Louis Donini, Dr. W. E. O'Keefe, P. A. Kornely and Karl A. Schuetter.

"I want to thank these men for the chamber, and all others who gave me such splendid cooperation in making the banquet a success," said Secretary Hugh O. Corbett. "The Women's club rendered excellent service, the musicians did splendidly and everything went through as planned."

Frank McGowan had charge of the ticket sale on the lower floor and remained at his post so long he almost missed his dinner.

Greetings and best wishes for success were extended the chamber in a telegram received by Mr. Corbett from Phil A. Grau, executive director of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce. The message said Milwaukee intended to send representatives, but regretted this was impossible.

REHEARSALS PROGRESSING FOR JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

Miss Dorothy Ralph has been chosen to play the part of Mrs. Prism, a governess, in the high school junior class play "The Importance of Being Earnest." Rehearsals are well under way and the characters are taking their parts in a way that suggests a very successful performance.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" is perhaps Oscar Wilde's funniest and best play. It has been off the professional stage only a short time and on the stage it was always well received. The students will present the play at the Appleton Theatre, Wednesday, April 6.

Skat Winners:

Eight tables were in play at the skat party in Elk hall Monday evening. Prizes were won by L. H. Koller, Richard Meyer and Dr. G. E. Massart.

IS BACK ON JOB AS GOOD AS NEW

C. & N. W. R. R. Man Says Tanlac Has Entirely Overcome His Rheumatism and Dyspepsia

"Tanlac has put me back on the job after I had to quit work," said John N. Wolf, 543 Twenty-Sixth Ave., Milwaukee, an employee of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

"Rheumatism and stomach trouble had the best of me. I was all crippled up in the back and had to give up my job. My back was weak and lame and the muscles all felt tight and drawn up. Many a morning pains across my kidneys would wake me up about four o'clock and I would have to get out of bed before I could get any case. My stomach gave me trouble also, and my appetite wasn't anything to brag of. I would fill all up with sour gas after eating and have the worst sort of pains in the pit of my stomach. I was so awful weak that I sometimes felt like all the strength I ever had had left me.

"But I don't feel that way now, for Tanlac has fixed me up fine and I'm putting in full time at work every day. My kidneys are in fine shape and my back hardly ever bothers me at all. I can eat anything now and digest it as good as I ever could. I sleep like a top and get up mornings feeling great. I have picked up in weight and feel strong and healthy once more. Tanlac has proved its worth in my case and I can give it a hearty recommendation."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt; F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. B. Abend, Dale; R. E. Lovell, Little Chute.

A leading figure

Do you know why the figure 8 is a leading figure in connection with the 1900 Cataract Electric Washer? Because that figure 8 makes the 1900 the perfect washing machine!

By means of this magic figure, the soapy cleansing water is forced back and forth through the clothes in a figure 8 motion four times oftener than in the ordinary washer!

And then, take the shiny copper tub of the 1900—not a single thing in it to cause wear and tear on the clothes—nothing to lift out and clean after the wash is finished.

Then, too, there's the wringer—it works electrically also, is reversible, and can be shifted from the washer to the clothes basket without moving the washer one inch.

But there, you will want to see for yourself what the 1900 will do. Let us deliver one right to your home so that you can try it out. Then after you have seen what it will do, start paying for it on terms to suit your convenience.

UNMARKED GRAVES ONLY ONES TO HAVE MARKERS

People who have erected monuments or headstones at graves of soldiers cannot be reimbursed by the government, according to notice received by Mrs. B. W. Wells, county Red Cross secretary, from the war department. It is also impossible to have them replaced with markers furnished by the government.

This information was obtained in answer to requests from people who had placed stones on graves, not knowing that the government supplied them free of cost in national cemeteries and free except for freight on graves in private cemeteries.

Notice that headstones were obtainable brought a number of applications to the Red Cross office on Appleton-st., to be forwarded to Washington. All information is on file there.

RACINE COLLEGE COMES ON MORE HARD DAYS

Racine college, one of the best known Episcopal colleges in the midwest may soon be memory if the courts sustain the claims of heirs of the late Charles S. Wright who gave ten acres to the school years ago to be used for educational purposes. Most of the college buildings are on this tract which has frontage on Lake Michigan.

The heirs declare that provisions of the gift have been violated in that the property has not been used for educational purposes for two or more years and insist that the title be restored to them.

The college was founded in 1852 and was operated successfully for more than 60 years. In 1912 it met with reverses and attendance fell off. Disputes between the warden, alumni and trustees caused financial support to be withheld and finally the doors were closed. Efforts to reopen the school have met with failure.

laid it beside his Box of Charms.

"If I can get my Washing Ring back," grinned the frog, "and can get

Little did he know that he was right

ring!" and he swallowed it at once.

But Nancy was calling.

"I'll just take a peep," said the frog,

Remove Stains From Linen

Of all the stains that are hard to remove from linen tea is the hardest.
It never seems to fade out and grows
darker with age.

Don't let the stain dry in if it's possible. In case
the stain does
pass unnoticed
for a while apply
glycerine before washing. Wet the spot with cold
water, cover with
glycerine and let stand several hours.
Wash out in cold water before putting into the hot suds. Glycerine will remove old stains if applied two or three times.

My Own Recipes
As each section of grapefruit is removed from the skin drop it into two or three tablespoons of olive oil.
Let the grapefruit stay in until the next section is ready. Arrange on the inside leaves of head lettuce, sprinkle with salt and paprika and pour over a French dressing made with the same oil used for the grapefruit. This blends the oil and fruit in a most delicious fashion.

Fried Egg Sandwiches
4 eggs, 4 tablespoons butter, bread
sliced 1/4 inch thick.
Melt butter but do not let it brown.
Break in eggs and cook slowly. When about half cooked break the yolk so it mixes with the white. Turn eggs and cook on both sides. Remove from frying-pan and keep hot in oven. Brown the bread quickly in the butter left in the frying-pan. Serve eggs between pieces of the toasted bread.

Apple Fritters
4 apples, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons warm water, 1 dessertspoon olive oil, 1 egg white, 1/2 teaspoon salt.
Peel and core apples. Cut in slices about half an inch thick. Sprinkle well with sugar and let stand for half an hour or more. Sift flour and salt, add oil and water slowly, stir until smooth.
Beat. Let this mixture stand for an hour. Then add the white of the egg beaten stiff and dry. Dip each apple ring in the batter, take out on a fork and fry in deep hot fat. Drain on towel paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve at once.

Adventures of the Twins
Olive Roberts Barton

"The End of the Jinn"
(By Olive Roberts Barton)
"Where's the frog?" asked Nancy as she and Nick and the enchanted goat stood in the burning sun right on the Equator.

The twins were so happy over not casting a shadow, and of getting the goat's permission to continue their journey through his cave, that they had almost forgotten their green companion, which was a wonder, as Nancy was particularly anxious to get the frog outside. She wished to find out if he were indeed the wicked Jinn who had caused them so much trouble on their adventure. If he were that person, the Equator would put an end to his magic. Everyone knows that no real magic can cross it, although it may go safely under it.

Now this is what had delayed the green bullfrog and why he had not followed the twins and the goat

3 YEAR SENTENCE
FOR "LOVE PIRATE"

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—Nancy Paul Author,
Highland Park, Illinois, "love pirate," legged "soul mate." Wednesday was sentenced to three years each on charges of adultery.

Action to deport Author will not be taken until his sentence has been served. It was understood.

Author of Mrs. Franzen, wife of Philip Franzen, former University of Wisconsin decorator, were arrested here recently charged with living together as man and wife.

They have been in jail since that time. Franzen refused to come to the aid of his former wife despite her appeals.

The two first came in the limelight
when Author "stole" Mrs. Franzen from her home in Madison and eloped to St. Louis, Mo., where they were arrested. Author was charged with taking $100 from Franzen but was acquitted when brought back to Madison.

Author, a native of Spain, was termed a "bad egg" by Judge C. Backus in municipal court when sentenced.

Mrs. Franzen was termed a "disgrace to the women of the city of Milwaukee," by the judge.

Author, after sentence, professed his love for Mrs. Franzen.

The whereabouts of Mrs. Author and baby are not known here.

KAISER IS NOT WORRYING ABOUT WOLF AT HIS DOOR

More Than $9,000,000 Has Been Paid to Exiled Ruler of Germany.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Paris—While France and England are bickering over what reparations Germany must pay, and whether Germany can pay or not, the German government is paying reparations to the millions of German Hohenzollerns and his kind and kin.
Already Germany has paid to the exiled Kaiser at least $9,140,000 of which there is official record. The total may greatly exceed this amount, for it is generally accepted that more millions have been smuggled across the Holland border to the Hohenzollern coffers.

The criticism in France is echoed in the mutterings from the undersert, underpaid, tax-burdened toilers of Germany.

Payments Made
The Legal Committee of the Prussian Assembly recently demanded of the Prussian finance minister that he give an accounting of the sums paid Hohenzollern since he fled to Holland. These sums were reported by him as follows:

January, 1919$7,500,000
August, 1919 725,000
October, 1919 415,000

Since then about $500,000 more has been paid to him as proceeds from land in Wilhelmstrasse, Berlin.

On top of this came the revelations brought about by a red-hot speech by former Chancellor Herman Mueller, who charged that several banking firms had smuggled about $5,000,000 out of the country.

William's Fortune
Figures from Doorn show William Hohenzollern is paying tax to Holland on an income of $850,000 a year, which would indicate that he admits having a fortune of $12,000,000.

Recently the ex-Crown Prince Frederick William expressed it as his "dearest wish" that he should retain the castle of Babelsberg, the Marble Palace at Potsdam and the feudal territory of Cels, an estate of about 25,000 acres, valued at $1,500,000.

The ex-crown prince is paying to Holland tax on an income of $17,200 a year, which indicates he acknowledges property worth about $250,000.

Duke Asks $5,000,000
The Duke of Brunswick, who married the ex-Kaiser's only daughter and who was the first to flee from Germany, recently demanded of the republican government of Brunswick that it give him back his large forests, coal and iron mines and other properties, or $5,000,000 cash. Failing this, he said he would sue.

The government replied that this property belonged to the sovereign and not to the individual. As there was no sovereign any more, the property belonged to the state.

STATE EXECUTIVE ENDS NIGHT RIDING

Kentucky Governor Takes Firm Stand Against Tobacco Burning.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Lexington, Ky.—The state cavalry stands ready to move into any region where night riders take revenge on tobacco growers for selling their crops.

Prompt action by Governor E. P. Morrow has averted a repetition of the night rider raids of 1907-08.

The weapon of the night rider is the torch.

When tobacco prices hit low levels in 1907 many planters combined to keep their crop off the market. Those who sold saw their barns burned.

At Hopkinsville property valued at $200,000 was destroyed. Many other towns were scenes of destruction.

The warfare spread to Ohio and Tennessee.

Violence Repeated
A start toward violence was made this year.

The average price for tobacco in 1920 was 46 cents. Some sold as high as $1 a pound.

The average this year is 9 1/2 to 12 cents. That's less than the cost of production.

Growers started a movement to stop raising tobacco in 1921. They hauled the 1920 crop from market back to their barns.

Then planters at Carlisle, Shelby and Bethel sold some of their crop. The night riders warned them that if any more tobacco was sold their property would be destroyed.

Twenty thousand pounds of tobacco at Danville were burned.

Governor Morrow posted $500 reward for the arrest of men who participated in the raid.

Boycott Talk Dying
Now talk of a complete tobacco boycott in 1921 is dying out.

Many farmers believe that a low tobacco price is better than a high price on any other product that can be raised on tobacco lands.

Many dealers made fortunes on small investments during the fat years, so they are fortified against the present slump.

The only extensive failure has been that of James M. Buckner of Louisville, who went into bankruptcy with $1,500,000 liabilities.

Connecticut is establishing an improved salmon hatchery for restocking its streams.

TAKES BACHELOR TO SOLVE KID PROBLEM

Retired Naval Officer With 7 Adopted Youngsters, Tells How It Is Done.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—"Tell this to any bachelor—or any selfish childless couple; there's nothing like a house full of children to make life really worth while."

The authority—America's champion bachelor daddy, Rear Admiral Newton A. McCully, U. S. N. He is the old seadog who has adopted seven Russian children and is bringing them up according to some novel notions.

One of these notions is that it's easier to rear a large family than a small one!

How?
"You know," says the admiral, "if I'd adopted only one or two, I'd have had to have a nurse or maid with them all the time. But with seven they amuse themselves, look after themselves, play together, and aren't a bit of trouble."

How It Happened
"How'd you ever come to adopt such a family?" the admiral was asked in his fine old house at 1521 I street.

It's a cheery place; big windows, bright rugs; no pipe racks or cellars, but toy locomotives and doll carriages.

"I've always loved children," answered this bachelor seadog-diplomat, who brought the youngsters with him when he recently returned from serving as Uncle Sam's naval representative with the Russian commission at Sebastopol.

"I love the Russian people, too."

"Now I'm 53 and in the navy I've managed to save some money. So I decided to spend some of it this way. I'd rather plan to adopt five, but when I was leaving I just had to take seven."

The Bachelor's System
Admiral McCully's house is as busy a beehive as is a battleship, but everything is just as shipshape.

He has put the navy system in the house.

"Each of the seven has his or her job," says the admiral, "and each one is proud of doing it well." Then he enumerated them:

Touitchka, 3, plays all day.

Feodor, 4, and Nitrochka, 5, are assistant maids; they answer the doorbell, put the toys away after games are over, and help keep things tidy.

Anastasia, 10, is assistant nurse.

Nina, 10 1/2, is assistant to the admiral's niece, who gives the children an hour's instruction in English every afternoon.

Landmilla, 11, is assistant cook.

Nicolai, 12, is furnace and general utility man.

Certain hours for work, certain hours for study, certain hours for play.

The Hardest Part
The hardest part of the admiral's job is this:

"I must go to sea again. I'm just on leave now, and must report for duty Feb. 1. But in the meantime I'm getting everything fixed so that all will be well in my absence."

Little Feodor and Nitrochka romped in to call the admiral to dinner.

"But now," he laughs, rising, "I'll always have a real home to come to when I make the home port."

In 1920, Cuba bought, $470,000,000 worth of goods from the United States.

FRANCE IN NEED OF CASH TO CURE ITS WAR INJURIES

France Needs Funds From Germany to Rehabilitate Herself, Experts Say.

By MILTON BRONNER
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Paris—France wants healing, not revenge.

That explains French insistence that Germany should pay.

It is not a case of Shyloeking. It isn't a case of trying to grind a foe's face into the dust. It's simply a matter of trying to make that foe repair immeasurable injuries committed during a war.

It is often said by opponents of heavy German reparations, that after all, during the whole war "only" about 7 per cent of French territory was devastated.

Just a comparison.

But—to compare France with America—suppose that that 7 per cent included Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Connecticut, Maryland and West Virginia!

It would include our best coal mines; factory towns; eastern farming and sheep-raising country.

Heart of France
This 7 per cent of France that has been devastated is to the French exactly what those states named are to us. Only our American states comprise many of our biggest cities, whereas devastated France does not include the biggest ones.

But the following list of French cities wrecked with their population figures, is illuminating:

Rheims115,178
St. Quentin 55,571
Arras 25,950
Cambrai 27,900
Soissons 14,430
Douai 36,250
Verdun 24,400
Arras 28,605
Lens 21,750
Amiens 81,735

In addition to wrecking these cities and to destroying the great coal mines around Lens, the Germans by the war, brought devastation to 9,000,000 acres of French soil.

Crops Produced
Much of this land before the war was valued at $500 an acre.

What desolation in this territory means can best be grasped from the fact that it produced the following portion of France's crops:

Of wheat20 per cent
Of oats24 per cent
Of sugar beets75 per cent
Of flax41 per cent
Of hops70 per cent

The ministry says that 304,151 buildings on this territory have been totally destroyed and 390,425 damaged.

MARSHALL'S YARNS CONFOUND ENEMY

Vice President Puts Squelcher on Republican Victory Celebration.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington—When Vice President Marshall lays down the gavel in the Senate on March 4 there will be genuine regret. Marshall has dignified the office of vice president by kidding it harder than anybody else—and then bringing humor and courtesy to it.

He plans to go upon the Chautauqua circuit and he will be a headliner.

An example of his facility in meeting any situation, awkward or unpleasant, is shown by two of his prize stories. He was in a company of jubilant Republicans who were gloating over the late election landslide. "The gloats grew more and more pronounced and the dreams of future more and more rosy. Then Marshall was given a chance. He said:

"Well, you folks are feeling mighty cocky. That's all right. You're telling what you are going to do. That's all right. Dream on. Only you sort of remind me of the colored boy, homeward bound from France, who,

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after a meal. Sour risings, gasiness, a heavy bloated feeling and such distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia are usually only temporary. And yet they may lead to serious disorder. The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals reflects to a high degree the intelligent selection of preventive measures.

One cannot always select or inspect the quality of food to be eaten nor its method or manner of preparation. But it is possible to avoid the acidity that is so often the result. And it is a far better plan to eat without worry over what may happen, than to starve for fear it will happen. Many physicians recommend these tablets for stomach distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

They are sold by all druggists everywhere at 60 cents a box. adv.

WALKS TO WASHINGTON TO APPEAL FOR HER SON

Council Bluffs, Ia.—Mrs. Margaret B. Erickson, 60, Sioux Falls, S. D., is going to walk to Washington to ask President Harding to pardon her son, Joe Erickson, a military prisoner at Fort Leavenworth.

Mrs. Erickson last month completed a country wide search for the boy which started shortly after the armistice and culminated in finding him at the prison. This search took the aged mother to practically every army camp in the country and exhausted her funds. She expects to work along the route to Washington for her food and lodging.

leaning on the ship's rail, said to his black buddy:

"Boy, when I gits ashore do you know what I'm agoin' to do? Well, I'm agoin' to git me a white hat an' a white coat an' white pants an' white socks, an' white shoes, an' white gloves, na' a white vest an' I'm goin' to walk right up Fifth-ave, with a white gal on each arm. What are you agoin' to do, boy?"

"Well," said the other, "I reckon I'll git me a black coat, an' black pants, an' a black tie, an' black shoes, an' tie some crepe on my left arm, an' be all ready to go to yo' funeral."

"But," continued the vice president, "I shouldn't tell that story. In fact I shouldn't say anything. We Democrats shouldn't talk just now. No, we are like the colored congregation that ran short of communion wine."

"They asked one of the sisters who was especially skilled in some of the more modern domestic arts and science to manufacture a supply. She couldn't get her usual ingredients so she made her wine out of persimmons—green persimmons. It was good stuff. It had a kick. But after communion the congregation was so pucker'd it had to whistle the doxology."

"That's us. If we can't sing we can whistle."

When Food Doesn't Digest

Give the Stomach a Rational Rest by Proper Aid. Not by Harsh Starvation Methods. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

A sour stomach may indicate an acid condition that calls for an alkaline effect.

This you will get from one or two

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after a meal. Sour risings, gasiness, a heavy bloated feeling and such distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia are usually only temporary. And yet they may lead to serious disorder. The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals reflects to a high degree the intelligent selection of preventive measures.

One cannot always select or inspect the quality of food to be eaten nor its method or manner of preparation. But it is possible to avoid the acidity that is so often the result. And it is a far better plan to eat without worry over what may happen, than to starve for fear it will happen. Many physicians recommend these tablets for stomach distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

They are sold by all druggists everywhere at 60 cents a box. adv.

Growing Easter Lilies Is Real Art, Florists Say

When you have admired the Easter lilies which you have seen appear regularly each year at just the right time, have you ever wondered how it happened that the buds bloomed at just the right hour of the right day of the right month?

The buds just don't "happen" to bloom at the right time. The beautiful banks of Easter lilies which we admire so much Sunday morning giving the right atmosphere in our churches are the result of months of tender care.

The plants raised at the Riverside Greenhouse were grown from bulbs shipped in October from Japan. These buds were set out in just the right kind of soil as soon as they arrived. Every bulb which showed signs of developing too early was put in a cool place to retard its growth. Those which were too backward were placed in a warmer room to encourage growth. They required the most careful watching for every bud which bloomed in February was a loss.

As soon as a bud shows white, it is placed in a cool place until it is time for it to bloom.

Julius Boelter, of the Riverside Greenhouse says that about 500 lilies will be in bloom for Easter. Some plants have one bud while others have three or four. Plants are sold according to the number of buds. There are several other varieties of plants which will bloom at the same time, such as hyacinths and daffodils.

The Kimberly Greenhouse has ordered its Easter lilies from Milwaukee this year instead of raising them.

MONTANA PLACES TAX ON BACHELOR CITIZENS

Helena, Mont.—Montana has decided that bachelorhood is a special privilege. The Legislature has put over a $3 yearly tax on unwed males. The money will be used to pay widows' pensions.

"Were letting you boys off easy," said Representative T. H. MacDonald, author of the bill, "I dare say there are many who wish they were eligible to pay this tax."

It is estimated that wood decay costs the farmers of America more than $500,000,000 annually.

GORMAN-M'GOORTY BOUT IS PLANNED FOR NEXT MONTH

Boxing License Is Granted Elmer Johnston by State Boxing Commission.

Passing will be added to Appleton's indoor sports within a few weeks if Elmer Johnston, who has been promoting wrestling matches here, succeeds in lining up the card he desires. Johnston is the owner and promoter, has been granted a boxing license by the Wisconsin boxing commission according to word from Madison Wednesday morning. Mr. Johnston said he is endeavoring to match Paul Gorman and Eddie McGoorty for the first bout probably early in April. He is now negotiating with those two men.

A classy card of preliminaries also will be arranged. Fans who have been flocking to the arena for the big wrestling matches during the winter are eager to see the fistie artists in action. They declare they will patronize the fights as liberally as they have the wrestling matches.

Gorman and McGoorty are well known to local fans. Gorman was a former before the war and recently has returned to the ring shows he possesses real class. McGoorty is an old timer who has met the best men of his weight in the world. He is still going strong but does not possess the stamina for long fights. He is well able, however, to stand the pace for the ten round fights permitted in Wisconsin.

NOEL WILL MANAGE MENASHA'S TEAM

Bruce Noel, who pitched for Appleton part of last season, will manage the Menasha team of the Fox river valley league next season, it has been announced from Menasha. Bruce will work in the box for his team. He has started lining up a squad and expects to be in the pennant chase from the first tap of the gong. "Doc" Delmore, crack Lake Shore league catcher has been signed to work behind the bat. Hoffman and Duford, both well known baseball players in this section, have cast their lot with Menasha.

Four umpires have been selected to officiate at the league games. They are Louis Resch, of Menasha; A. Dicks of Oshkosh; Otto Stoeckbauer of Manitowish; and Frank Block of Manitowish.

The league has agreed that any player who jumps his team during the year will be blacklisted. Teams are forbidden to strengthen themselves during the last five games of the season or to make any changes in players unless one or more of the men are injured so severely they cannot play.

MEETS WILL HERE THURSDAY

Here, Mr. and Mrs. Wrestling Fan, you see the imposing figure of Alex Orlando who will pit his strength against George Hill's skill in Armory C Thursday night. Mr. Orlando comes here with the biggest chest expansion in captivity. He stretches the tape 12 inches when he pulls a blast of air into his lungs. He figures this mighty chest power will enable him to break out of body holds but local fans figure he will have to expand his head if he wants to break away from Mr. Hill. Inasmuch as the latter plays the head harder than he does the lungs.

Orlando expects to go on the mat, weighing between 210 and 215 pounds. He writes he is in splendid condition for the fray. His record contains victories over a flock of notables.

SAMPSON-JACOBSON ARE STILL AMONG LEADERS

Sampson and Jacobson, Appleton Elk bowlers, still are in fourth place in the doubles in the Elk state bowling tournament. The Appleton duo rolled a score of 1167, one point behind third place and six points more than fifth place.

Kaukauna Elk bowlers failed to disturb the leaders when they rolled in Green Bay Monday. Kaukauna scores follow:

Singles
Gillen, 450; Weiffenbach, 424; Petersen, 527; Minkhege, 579; Ganter, 553; Smith, 551; Hilkenberg, 484; Johnson, 512; Nagan, 523.

Doubles
Smith-Hilkenberg, 967; Ganter-Johnson, 1091; Gillen-Weiffenbach, 959; Petersen-Minkhege, 1055.

Five Man
Chief's Squad, 2161; Elks No. 3, 2200; Berby's Specials, 1738; Kaukauna Paper company, 2571; Elks No. 1, Kaukauna, 2425.

APPLETON NETBALLERS COMPETE IN TOURNEY

Appleton volleyball players left Wednesday for Fond du Lac where they will compete in the first annual Winnebago district tournament. Games are to start at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and continue until late in the evening. About 20 teams will participate.

Appleton had planned to enter two teams but plans were changed at the last minute and only one team was sent. This squad is made up of Ramsey, Wettengel, Jennings, Lange, Ellis, and Gochbauer.

Teams are entered from Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Ripon, Sheboygan and Waupun. A loving cup is to be presented to the team winning the title. Fond du Lac will have at least a dozen squads in the competition, it was said.

In the last ten years horses on farms have increased by 1,275,666.

LAWRENCE CLAIMS STATE MAT TITLE

Refusal of State University to Meet Lawrence Is Basis for Claim.

Lawrence is the possessor of the state mat championship due to the refusal of the University of Wisconsin to meet it in a dual meet this year. Wisconsin has conceded the claim of the local team for forfeit because a university ruling does not allow post-season athletic events for the university teams. The western conference season officially closed with the conference championships at Bloomington, Ind., last Friday night.

Lawrence wrestlers have been on the trail of the state university since the middle of last December. Wisconsin offered the local team the date of Jan. 29, at Appleton, which was the same date Iowa State college offered Lawrence for a meet at Ames. Lawrence was forced to decline this date with both teams because it conflicted with the final examinations of the first semester. Wisconsin refused to consider any other date with Lawrence this year, even after the Blue and White team had demonstrated that it possessed some real wrestlers. The close meet with Indiana was further proof that Lawrence was entitled to a meet with Wisconsin and members of the Indiana team were unanimous in saying that Lawrence has a team which would be far up in the conference race this year if entered.

Indiana was well satisfied with the hospitality accorded the members of their team as is witnessed in the letter from Mr. Stehm, famous football coach and head of the athletic department of that school. Mr. Stehm writes: "I want to tell you the our wrestlers reported fine treatment and satisfactory officiating upon their return from Appleton. I assure you that I personally appreciate your hospitality."

Northwestern university of Evanston, Ill., has also refused to meet the local wrestlers this year. An effort was made to bring both Wisconsin and Northwestern to Appleton for a meet on St. Patrick's day but both teams telegraphed their refusals.

GIRL BASKETEERS ARE DEFEATED BY GREEN BAY

The Appleton Womens club basketball team suffered defeat Tuesday evening in a close game with the business girls team of the Y. W. C. A. in Green Bay, 18 to 11. The local girls were ahead until the last quarter. The third quarter ended 8 to 10 in favor of Appleton. The womens club team was crippled by the loss of two of the regular players. Ten rosters accompanied the team to the "Bay."

The following line-up was used: Helen Weeks, Dorothy DeYoung, centers; Ella Griesebach, Margaret Peters, forwards; Frances Versteegen and Emma Springer, guards.

A return game will be played with the East side Green Bay high school Y. W. C. A. team Wednesday, March 23, at Green Bay.

FRANK BAKER WILL TRY TO COMEBACK

Former Sultan of Swatters Wants to Make Good With Yankee Team.

By United Press. Leased Wire.
New York.—Frank Baker, once the home run king of the diamond, is on his way back to baseball.

After a year's retirement the swat sultan before the days of Babe Ruth is heading south for the camp of the New York Yankees to try a comeback.

There are those who from a preponderance of evidence in the past will say—"It can't be done."

Others who sat at the ringside here the other night and saw the ancient Stanislaus Zbyszko, close to the half-century mark, conquer the youthful Joe Stecher, a perfect athlete and one of the best wrestlers in the game, will say—"It can be done."

It's all up to Baker. If he does come back it may mean a pennant for the Yankees. If he doesn't he will be just one of those rather pitiful spectacles that the public looks at with sympathy and wonders "why do they try?"

Last summer in Antwerp, Ted Meredith, one time peer of all the middle distance runners and the holder of several world's records, failed pitifully in an attempted comeback. He lost prestige because Americans much rather would have remembered him as a retired champion than an "also ran" in the Olympics.

Putting One Over But Not Long—

AUSTRALIA GIVES TIP TO UNCLE SAM ON VETERAN CARE

100 Per Cent Assistance Is Given War Heroes by Government.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

London—Australian soldiers, returning to civil life, are getting 100 per cent backing from the government. They are:

Shown the way to real jobs.

Given financial assistance.

Taught trades or farming.

Given a chance to buy homes.

"Australia has accepted the whole responsibility," says Senator E. D.

Millen, minister of repatriation in Australia. "My department was created specially to deal with the subject."

Australia's success affords suggestions for dealing with neglect of war veterans in the United States, of which the American Legion has complained.

"What have been adopted as definite obligations to you war heroes?" he was asked. He listed them in this order:

One: To restore every man to a position comparable to that which he occupied upon enlistment, and to sustain him by money allowance until such a job is secured.

Two: To make provision for dependents of deceased soldiers or of those who, owing to injuries, are unable to provide for them.

Three: To provide medical treatment, after discharge, in cases of men with recurring disabilities due to war service.

Four: Retaining of men whose war disabilities prevent their following pre-war occupations.

Millen explained that while the government was finding jobs, a substantial allowance of approximately $10 a week has been given single men, with extra allowance for married men and their children, if any.

"When I left Australia," Millen said, "only one per cent of 280,000 men who had returned home, and who were not physically incapacitated, remained on allowance. The average period during which men drew allowance was three weeks."

"As the result of vocational training 30,000 men who would have drifted into the ranks of the unskilled laborers have become skilled workmen."

"How did this army of untrained men live while learning trades?" he was asked.

"They were granted $10 a week while in training," Millen explained. "They were sent first to a training school and afterward to trade schools and absorbed into industry by a joint agreement of the unions and the employers. The ratio was one such man to every six journeymen ordinarily employed."

Farm and Home Features of Plan

"In settling soldiers on land the commonwealth agreed to help financially."

"We advance 1,000 pounds (nearly $4,000 American money) to each settler, of which $25 pounds is for working capital, plant and improvements."

"Seventeen thousand men have been established on the land and it is estimated that 15,000 more will desire to get land. The total land settlement will probably cost the commonwealth $50,000,000 pounds."

"Parliament has approved a plan to erect houses. It enables any soldier or his widow to obtain a house either by purchase or building, up to the amount of 300 pounds, without deposit."

"Interest is charged at 5 per cent, plus one per cent sinking fund. The amount of arrears has been less than 2 per cent."

"The program for this year calls for 6,000 homes and the appropriation is for 5,000,000 pounds. We expect to appropriate this sum annually for several years, as there is no time limit in which eligible men may apply."

Choir Rehearsal

The Congregational church choir will rehearse Wednesday evening at 7:15, and will debuts in time for the symphony club concert at the chapel.

Easter Fashions

Sounding a New Price Note

Easter Suits That Tempt One Out Under The Spring Sun

IT'S a gay world when one has a smart Suit stamped with the touches distinctive of 1921. In fabrics one finds the smart twills, pique cord, piquette, twill cord, Poirer cord, tricotine and serge—most generally used in navy, grey and tan shades.

Fashion wavers in her devotion to the youthful dash of box and Eton Jacket Suits and smiles also on the impeccable lines of semi-tailored models, on bloused back and Eton front styles, on ripple back and the straight coolie jacket. Embroidery, beading, stitching, appliques of leather and contrasting fabrics are smart ornamentations.

From $29.50 to $125.00

Frocks Display Color Charms With Barbaric Lavishness

RUSSIAN, Chinese, Egyptian, Slavic and Algerian are the influences one finds in the vivid motifs which enliven the cloth and silk Frocks for Easter. Their effect is highly animated and one to which mere words do not do justice. One must see the trim little basques and voluminous skirts so reminiscent of old Spain or the slim graceful ones typical of the Moyen Age, to appreciate the intense vivid beauty of these Frocks.

Your Spring needs for street wear, for afternoon, for shopping, and perhaps the matinee, in fact, every imaginable need has been fully covered in Pettibone's Spring Displays. Pleasing models may be found in Canton crepe, crepe de chine, kitten's ear satin, taffeta and tricolette.

From $25.00 to $125.00

Clever Quirks Distinguish The New Spring Wraps

AFTER all the Wrap's a very practical bit of apparel whether one pulls its big collar up around one's ears and snuggles down for a motor spin, or whether one drapes it gracefully and sallies forth to luncheon and the matinee. Wraps, Cape-Coats and Capes are fashioned of soft-pile fabrics in the fashionable grey, navy and tan tones, often combining the navy with one of the other two.

Fringe, embroidery, stitching, tiered effects, scarfs, collars and butterfly sleeves are a few of the high lights one notices in a hasty inspection. There are very smart Coats, made along top-coat lines, which appeal to the follower of outdoor life.

From $16.50 to $110.00

The Many New Versions Of The Indispensable Sweater

SPRING without new Sweaters — imagine it! No need to imagine such a catastrophe for there are new ones galore with many a new delightful quirk. Unusual weaves, lovely color combinations and smart styles combine to offer much to enliven the sports outlook for Spring. Tuxedo and surplice modes with many a variation are now ready.

Easter Hats Bloom With Color And Fascinating Furbelows

SPRING is essentially the time for Hats. Warm sunshine, blue sky and outdoor days find feminine thoughts turning to what is proper for morning shopping at the market or the stores, for sports wear and semi-sports, for afternoon and for dress. You will find the Millinery Section a delightful spot during Easter Week.

Filmy lace and tulle models vie with mannish sailors, crisp street hats of cellophane and straw, with crepe de chine sports modes and charming flower-trimmed creations. Broad brims and narrow ones, tricorne and bicorne, Russian tiara and Hindoo turbans—there are shapes for every feminine type and every occasion.

From $6.50 to $45.00

Blouses And Skirts Offer Great Opportunity For Smart Outfits

TO begin with Blouses, there are fascinating casaquin models of Georgette lavishly beaded, embroidered and tasseled. Needless to say, they form costumes of beauty. Charming with the suit for semi-dress are overblouses gorgeously embroidered or made colorful by the combination of two fabrics. Crepes are smart for these Blouses. Hand-made tub models are unusually charming this season, many showing a generous use of Irish lace or jabots, plaitings and collars.

From $3.75 to $37.50

TO turn to the second fiddle one finds the faithful Skirt growing more and more individual in its clever adaptation of plaits, embroidery, stitching and good tailoring. Sports enthusiasts in particular will find the collection interesting. Of plaids and stripes at $13.50, $15.00 to $25.00. Of white flannel and serge at $10.00 to $17.50.

Lovely Lingerie Fashioned Of Laces, Silks And Nainsook

UNDER new Spring apparel the most discriminating of women like to know they are clad in attractive Lingerie. New modes in crepe de chine feature the short chemise with drawers to match. Handwork exceedingly fine adds intrinsically to the value of both silk and nainsook models. Drawn thread motifs, tracteries of embroidery, subtle two-toned ribbons and exquisite French flowers give to these dainty garments an air of femininity and charm that is wholly irresistible. With Spring here and Summer approaching the need for a quantity of these garments increases.

From $3.00 to $20.00

Sports Apparel For Onlookers And Participants

SPORTS apparel assumes such tremendous importance these days that a wardrobe without a generous supply of what's what is sadly antiquated. For the active ones there are admirable sports suits of tweeds and Jersey that are of a fine weight for early Spring golf or motoring; sweaters of comfortable cut; skirts short and plaited; tailored blouses of crepe de chine and voile; and good looking hats simple in line; but oh, such a knowing simplicity!

Suits of wool jersey at $19.50 to $50.00. Suits having wool jersey coat with plaid skirt at $42.00.

Jersey coats — suit length at $19.50 to $35.00. Plaid blanket coats at $13.50 and $18.50.
